

#27 Reaching the Border

U.S. troops and an M8 howitzer move past a knocked out German halftrack as they advance to the German border.

The M8 is built on the chassis of the Stuart light tank designed for reconnaissance and scouting. The howitzer allowed the vehicle to shoot heavy charges at fortifications and in street fighting.